

Lighting the Way

Bloomington-based Smart Candle will provide the lighting ambience to the world premiere tonight of the independent movie "Home," starring Marcia Gay Harden. It's a story about a breast cancer survivor and her relationship with her 8-year-old daughter. The premiere is at the historic Marjorie S. Deane Theater in Manhattan, where no open flames are permitted. That set the stage for the Smart Candle and the LED candles it sells around the world. Smart Candle's 140 models of lighting products provide illumination in such venues as St. Paul's Cathedral in London and the Eiffel Tower
